

PI Customer Training

Hands-On Product Training

R-TRAINING

- Tailored to customer requirements
- Individual or group training
- Available for all PI products and systems
- On customer site or at PI
- Hands-on training

PI customer trainings

We want to support our customers in using PI products by offering specific customer trainings. The trainings are tailored to the requirements of the customer and are designed for different levels of experience. They convey the necessary skills to the customer to install, start up, and optimize the PI system and to troubleshoot problems.

Flexible and interactive

The training courses are carried out directly on or with the product, on the customer's site, or at PI. The scope and duration of the training is flexible and determined by the customer in cooperation with our service team. Our trainers work interactively with the participants, responding to their specific needs, and answering their questions. Product-related training materials in electronic and/or printed form support the customer in gaining an understanding of all training contents.

Ordering Information

R-TRAINING

PI customer trainings for different levels of experience, tailored to the requirements of the customer. Hands-on training directly on the product, individual and group training, on the customer's site or at PI. Please specify when ordering: Product, number of participants, location.

Available trainings: Basic to intermediate